Miracle Theatre Company, $5,000

FY07 Cultural Development Grant: To support a Spanish language production of "Rosalba y los Llaveros" written by playwright Emilio Carballido and considered the first modern Mexican Comedy. "Rosalba" is a delightful comedy of manners, in which a defiant young woman of Mexico City visits her cousins in Veracruz and turns their lives upside down. The production, slated for performance in April 2007 in Portland, will feature actors of "Teatro Español" and graduates of Miracle's "Pluma Nueva" young actors program. The production will be contextualized through study guides, post-show discussions, and super-titling to increase accessibility for all audiences.

Sojourn Theater, $5,000

FY07 Cultural Development Grant: To support "Vision", a performance and dialogue series in collaboration with the Mayor of Portland's office. Vision will give Portland's citizens a voice in policy making through an interactive theatrical experience. The project will include a free 8-week series of original collage performance pieces shaped by Sojourn from citizen interviews gathered earlier by dozens of community organizations. Following performances, facilitated community dialogues will take place. Input from these post-show discussions will be funneled back to the Mayor's office to help shape the city's Vision Plan process.

Third Rail Repertory Theatre, $5,000

FY07 Cultural Development Grant: To support the creation and production of "Number Three", the world premier of a new play by Portland screenwriter/playwright/actor Ebbe Roe Smith. The award-winning company and Smith will delve into the nature of abuse and survival within the confines of our own families. Autobiographical in nature, "Number Three" combines familiar comedic styles with broad slapstick to explore a sensitive subject with humor and pathos. This production will showcase the best local, professional theatre talent in Portland and will be produced at the Interstate Firehouse Cultural Center located in the culturally diverse community of North Portland.
